From comfort bed to nursing care bed: bock showcases new stellar Düsseldorf, Verl, 25 September 2018. At the Rehacare trade fair in Düsseldorf, the bed manufacturer bock (www.bock.net) will showcase its redesigned stellar upholstered comfort bed. “The bed uses a modular system,” Managing Director Klaus Bock explains. “stellar can be expanded and even transformed into a fully fledged nursing care bed while always maintaining the elegant look of an upholstered bed. The stellar double bed can even be modified on one half only.”

Luxurious bed for singles and couples bock’s new stellar was developed with singles and couples in mind who value elegance and comfort – and want to continue living in style even if they may need help one day. To meet these demanding tastes, bock has redesigned stellar from the ground up. For example, the standard version of the bed is equipped with the ripolux neo lying surface system. The roughly 100 individually mounted springs of the multi-element lying surface adapt optimally to the body’s pressure distribution, providing especially ergonomic comfort. An extensive selection of high-quality fabrics and leather options ensure that the bed can be individually matched to suit the unique ambiance of every space. A wireless remote control, reading lamps and a USB port are also available.

What makes stellar so special is that it is even suited for professional use as a fully fledged nursing care bed in assisted living and other care environments. stellar is now available in widths between 90 and 200 cm and lengths of up to 220 cm as a single or double bed.
